11 Seymour Pond Trails

Seymour Pond Trail network is in the heart of Brewster's vast Punkhorn Parklands and passes through many of Brewster's diverse habitats – abandoned cranberry bogs, red maple swamps, bogs, and upland mixed pitch pine and oak forest with huckleberry understory. Midway along the trail is Mario's Quaking Bog, with its unstable floating vegetative layer. The trail ends at Seymour Pond where a high bluff provides a view over the pond.

Round trip trail length: 3 mile Yellow and Orange outer loop to Seymour Pond and back.

Directions: From Stony Brook Road, turn on to Run Hill Road and travel 1.2 miles to where it turns to gravel. There is a public parking lot on the left. The Seymour Pond trail starts on the eastern side of the parking lot.
